EXAMINER'S AMENDMENT

An examiner's amendment to the record appears below. Should the changes and/or additions be unacceptable to applicant, an amendment may be filed as provided by 37 CFR 1.312. To ensure consideration of such an amendment, it MUST be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee.

The application has been amended as follows:

Amended Title: Liquid crystal display with a conductive column having a ground column directly contacting a first electrode surrounded by a seal.

The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance:

Claims 1,3-6,8-16,17,18,20-23,26,27 are allowed.

Regarding Claim 1,17,18,

Tani (US 6392735) discloses a first (20) and second (10) substrate; a liquid crystal (CG) retained between the first and second substrate; at least one first conductive column (23) formed on the first substrate, the first conductive column (23) comprising a ground column (22) made of an elastic resin and a first electrode (123) which covers the ground column (22); at least one conductive column (22) contact portion (where 23 and 36b contact each other) electrically connected to the first conductive column by contacting the first electrode (123) through the conductive spacers (36b), and formed above the second substrate (10); and a seal (36a) which bonds the first and second substrate by contacting at least one part of the first conductive column (23) except a part of the first conductive column (23) which connects the conductive column contact portion (where 36b and 23 touch), wherein at least one first conductive column is surrounded by the sea, and the seal shrinks when a sealing material is set.

Although Tani does not directly say the seal shrinks when a sealing material is set, it is known in the art if the seal is made of thermosetting material or UV curing material the seal will shrink when it is set as shown in Kane et al (US 6292249)(Column 4, rows 1-16).

Miyazaki (US 5978061) discloses (Fig. 9) the conductive column (38) directly contacting the electrode (24). But does not disclose the conductive column surrounded by the seal.

Miki et al (US 20030231276) discloses (Fig. 10) conductive spheres (30) directly contacting the electrode (18C) surrounded by the seal (13). But it is not obvious to replace the conductive sphere with a conductive column.

The prior art of record does not disclose nor would it be obvious to combine another reference to disclose wherein the conductive column contact portion is electrically connected to the first conductive column by direct contact of the first electrode being surrounded by the seal. Therefore is patentable over the prior art.

Claims 3-6,8-16 are dependent on Claim 1, therefore are allowable.

Claims 26 is dependent on Claim 17, therefore are allowable.

Claims 20-23,27 are dependent on Claim 18, therefore are allowable.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
